Supporting evidence

Little Lions Literacy provides a comprehensive research foundation grounded in the Science of reading and structured literacy. It includes a detailed theory of action and logic model linking product features to expected literacy outcomes, and a clearly articulated progression from resources and instructional activities to short-, intermediate-, and long-term outcomes.

Furthermore, an ESSA Tier IV ("Demonstrates a Rationale") recognition from LXD Research, indicating that the product has a research-based rationale but not yet evidence from outcome studies.

Statement by EduEvidence's College of Reviewers

Little Lions Literacy has a comprehensive logic model that clearly connects the program's instructional resources, teaching strategies, and intended literacy outcomes. The product is supported by an extensive body of published research and provides a well-developed theoretical rationale for improving foundational literacy skills. However, the current evidence package does not include published empirical studies demonstrating improvements in learner outcomes.
